

Your Face, Your Voice: A Real Jogg Avatar Workflow

Inspect the real Jogg project behind a finished lesson, prepare clean narration and keep the presenter's face and voice consistent.

What this guide helps you do

This is an inspection and setup walkthrough using an existing completed lesson. It does not demonstrate a fresh upload or generation submission. Interfaces and allowances may change; follow the live screen.

Presenter: Toti - Steve's Digital Assistant. Keep this guide open while you follow the lesson.

Follow the workflow

Finish the narration first

Approve the words, then listen for pronunciation, rushed sentences and awkward pauses. Fix the audio before producing the avatar performance.

Inspect the right project

The lesson opens an existing completed Jogg project with Edit as New. Check the project, timeline and narration file before editing. Avoid submitting another render when you only need to inspect the existing result.

Verify the face and voice

Compare the chosen avatar with your approved reference. A display name alone does not prove the right identity. Use a voice and likeness you are authorised to use.

Choose Upload Audio when appropriate

The filmed interface offered MP3 or WAV uploads up to twenty megabytes. Check the current on-screen limit before uploading and use a clean narration track.

Check the live allowance

Review the quote for the exact feature and export settings you selected. The lesson's account allowance does not establish what another plan or feature costs.

Review and retain the export

Watch at normal speed. Check mouth movements, pronunciation, pacing, readable captions and useful illustrations. Save the original project and finished file.
